Difficult Run Community Watershed Forum

Come to the Fairfax County Difficult Run Community Watershed Forum to learn how you can improve the health, safety, and quality of your community by participating in plans to improve Difficult Run. The forum is free and open to the public.

In order to accommodate residents, the same forum is being offered on two different dates. Please attend one of the forums on:

- Thursday evening, March 3rd; 7:00 p.m. – 9:00 p.m. at the Fairfax County Government Center, 12000 Government Center Parkway, Fairfax.

OR

- Saturday afternoon, March 5th; 1:30 p.m. – 4:15 p.m. at the Langston Hughes Middle School Cafeteria, 11401 Ridge Heights Road, Reston.

You're invited to arrive 30 minutes early for either forum to sign-in, enjoy refreshments, and view informational displays. Can't attend the whole forum on either date? The agendas will be tailored so that you can attend part of the forum. Details will be posted at www.fairfaxcounty.gov/dpwes/watersheds/ as the dates get closer.

Why a Community Watershed Forum?

Anyone who lives, works, or recreates in the Difficult Run watershed is invited to come to a March forum to learn about major watershed issues and potential means of addressing the issues. Attendees will provide feedback about previously identified problems in the watershed and any additional issues facing their community. Information presented at the forum will prepare residents to provide informed input at future forums to review draft watershed plans.

Why Should You Participate?

The Community Watershed Forum is a key opportunity to participate in the watershed planning process and to help shape the future development of your community. The Difficult Run watershed is comprised of areas in north-central Fairfax County. If you live, work, or recreate in Difficult Run, you are strongly encouraged to attend one of the forums.

For more information about the forum and reasonable ADA accommodations, contact Krystal Kearns, Fairfax County Stormwater Planning Division, 703-324-5821, TTY 711, krystal.kearns@fairfaxcounty.gov or visit www.fairfaxcounty.gov/dpwes/watersheds/.
